

Lim Shuh Miin

Chief Technology Officer

Lim Shuh Miin is the Chief Technology Officer of Fusang, where he leads the engineering organisation behind Asia's first digital securities exchange — including the in-house engine powering Fusang Exchange 2.0 and the Block Tree platform. With Fusang serving as the central technology unit of the greater Portcullis Group, he acts as CTO across the Group's entities.

An early advocate of cloud-native, microservices and API-first architecture in financial services, Shuh Miin brings close to three decades in technology, including over two decades in engineering leadership across regulated financial institutions and global enterprises. He has repeatedly grown engineering organisations from a handful of people to more than 70 in Kuala Lumpur. Most recently, he was Group Chief Technology Officer at Bjak, the Southeast Asian insurtech. Before that, as Executive Vice President and Head of Applications at Bursa Malaysia, the national stock exchange, he led its first migration to public cloud, strengthened the resilience of critical market-infrastructure systems, and delivered an industry-wide broker API platform, alongside an ESG disclosure platform with the London Stock Exchange Group.

Earlier, he served concurrently as Vice President and Head of Technology for Wealth-X and WealthEngine — sister companies within Euromoney PLC's People Intelligence division — running the technology and data platform behind one of the world's leading ultra-high-net-worth intelligence businesses as it grew from a venture-backed startup into Euromoney PLC, and contributing to the due diligence behind its acquisition of WealthEngine. Before that he was Head of Development at Experian, following roles at Motorola, a rare CMMI Level 5 software organisation.

He is known for turning regulatory and operational complexity into resilient infrastructure that simply works. He holds a Bachelor of Engineering in Electrical and Electronic Engineering from Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia.
